COMMUNICATION

Editor Record:

We note the article in last week's Record concerning delinquent sewer taxes, and believing that the general public is not fully informed in regard to this matter, will give a few of the facts. For years the residents of Grover avenue, south of Ely street have wanted the water works extended through their street. Having no fire protection whatever, but have failed to get it. Now they have a sewer laid through seventy rods of the street. (There are a half dozen houses on this strip.) But no water to make it available and no prospect of any, as we are told when anything is said to the "Powers that be" that the price of water pipe is prohibitive. Is it any wonder that people balk at paying for a sewer that can not be used. A water log that served to drain a water hole in front of one man's premises was displaced by the sewer and nothing done about it.

If there is any reason in common law, common justice or common sense why that tax should be paid it has yet to be shown. If the city authorities can lay out and carry through an improvement that is no improvement, but a farce, and levy a tax for it, then a change in the management of affairs is much needed. A. G. Titus.

First Woman Journalist.

Mrs. Anne Royall, born in Maryland, in 1769, was not only the first woman journalist, but the first of her sex to own and edit a newspaper. She was the widow of a Virginia revolutionary war officer, and appeared in Washington in 1824 for the purpose of trying to secure a government pension. Failing in this, she started a small weekly sheet which was first called the "Washington Post" and later the "Huntress." She had met personally and talked with every president from Washington to Lincoln, and was the terror of politicians.

To Remove Ink Stains.

Ink stains on white fabrics can be removed with peroxide of hydrogen. Drop it on the stain with a medicine dropper or, if it is a large spot, pour it on slowly from a spoon. As this preparation has a bleaching effect, great care must be exercised if used on colored materials.

SCRIPTURE

Luke 10:25-37

And, behold, a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?

He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou?

And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind, and thy neighbor as thyself.

And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live.

But he, willing to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbor?

And Jesus answering said, A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead.

And by chance there came down a certain priest that way; and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side.

And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him.

And went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee.

Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbor unto him that fell among the thieves?

And he said, He that showed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go and do thou likewise.
